

Holocaust & Intolerance Museum of New Mexico

combating hate and intolerance and promoting understanding through education

Friedl Dicker-Brandeis was the remarkable artist and devoted teacher who taught creative art classes to children in the Terezin concentration camp between 1942 and 1944.

Join us for any or all of the three workshops, which will be facilitated by artists and teachers Linney Wix and Daniel Wolfskehl. Workshops will be structured in accord with Dicker-Brandeis's teaching approach which she developed from her art studies at the Weimar Bauhaus.

With student and parent permission, art works and writing will be exhibited at the Holocaust and Intolerance Museum of New Mexico in the autumn of 2015, after which artwork will be returned to the artists.
